Dells Bank Recognized in Top 200 Healthiest Banks in America

Bank of Wisconsin Dells was recognized as one of the Top 200 Healthiest Banks in America for 2019, with an overall A+ health rating by DepositAccounts.com. This places the bank at #72 out of 5,267 FDIC insured United States banks analyzed by the DepositAccounts team.

“It’s an honor to be recognized as one of the top 200 healthiest banks in the country,” stated Jon Bernander, bank President/CEO. “We strive to be one of the top financial institutions for our customers and our shareholders, so being named in the top 2 percent in America is a testament to all of the hard work that has been put forth by our team.”

Bank of Wisconsin Dells was also recognized in 2015 by DepositAccounts’ list of Top 200 Healthiest Banks in America, placing 118th. Each year, DepositAccounts.com evaluates over 5,000 federally insured banks within the United States on their financial health. Ratings are graded on a number of factors – including capitalization, deposit growth, loan quality and loan reserve ratios – in order to determine a comprehensive health score.
